

DRACO SCRIPT SAMPLE

Ben Avery

contact@supersonicpodcomics.com

DRACO

The object . . . it's opening . . .

SFX: thrumming becomes low, constant, rhythmic

DRACO

It's pulling us inside! This is insane, Diem! This is--

DIEM

This is our mission! We are to make contact, if possible!

DRACO

I'd say we made contact.

SFX: loud crash -- they've landed

DRACO

It's sealed itself again. The object is hollow and we are resting on the inside wall. Some Atmosphere, nothing breathable. No organic lifeforms or conventional machinery, but there are some very odd energy readings we could not detect from outside.

DIEM

What's that, floating there in front of us?

DRACO

One of the odd energy sources. Diem, I suggest we take a closer look. Put our space suits to use.